

OPERATING EUROVISION AND EURORADIO

ABOUT THE EBU: THE WORLD'S MOST INFLUENTIAL MEDIA COMMUNITY

The EBU is the world's foremost alliance of public service media (PSM) with members in 56 countries in Europe and beyond.

Its mission is to safeguard the role of PSM and promote their indispensable contribution to society. It is the point of reference for industry expertise and a core for European media knowledge and innovation. The EBU is a world-renowned benchmark of media industry knowledge and expertise, particularly in broadcast technology and innovation, training, research and European media law.

The EBU operates EUROVISION and EURORADIO.

EUROVISION is the media industry's premier distributor and producer of top-quality live news, sport, entertainment, culture and music content. Through EUROVISION, the EBU provides broadcasters with on-site facilities and services for major world events in news, sport and culture.

EURORADIO is the name under which the EBU enhances and promotes public service radio to ensure that it remains a key protagonist in a multimedia world. This is achieved through the means of music exchanges, professional networking, and the active promotion of digital and hybrid radio.

With its staff of 370, the organisation extends from Brussels to Rome, Moscow to New York, Washington DC, Singapore, and Beijing. Its headquarters are in Geneva – an inspirational hub for global sports federations, far-reaching international organisations and centres of academic and scientific discovery.
